Appendix 1. Available Connection Mode and Processing Mode (Summary)

Table A1-1 shows available Connection Mode and Data Transmission/Receipt Processing Mode by users in NACCS.

Table A1-1 Available Connection Modes and Processing Mode (Summary)

| Connection Mode | | Processing Mode | Use of NACCS Packaged Software | Type of access line | Retrieval of Management Document Information | Presence/absence of other relevant ministries' procedures |
|------------------------|---------------------|---|---|---|---|--|
| Router connection | | Interactive Processing Mode (Interactive) | 0 | dedicated line, Fiber Optic Broadband | 0 | 0 |
| Gateway connection | SMTP Two- Way | Interactive Processing Mode (SMTP Two- Way) | × | dedicated line, Fiber Optic Broadband | × | 0 |
| | SMTP/ POP3 | E-mail Style Processing Mode | × | dedicated line, Fiber Optic Broadband | × | 0 |
| | НТТР | For retrieval of Management Document only | × | dedicated line, Fiber Optic Broadband | O (Note 1) | × Not applicable |
| | netAPI | Interactive Processing Mode (netAPI) | × | Internet line | O (Note 2) | 0 |
| netNACCS connection | | Interactive Processing Mode (netNACCS) | 0 | Internet line | 0 | 0 |
| WebNACCS connection | | WebNACCS Processing Mode | × | Internet line | × | 0 |

- (Note 1) Management Document can be retrieved by following the sequence given in "6.2 Procedures for Retrieving Management Document Information (Using the user's system)".
- (Note 2) Management Document can be retrieved by following the sequence given in "4.5.

 Interactive Processing Mode (netAPI)".